"'Read the article twice,' said D'Havreceurt, who had listened attentively to Kersent's words. "You know me for a man of peaceable temper and disposition, an enemy, both by nature and habit, of all violence. Well, I read that article to-day, and it seemed to me that under the form of praise it concealed a tendency to satire. I hesitated to tell you of it, but since another has started the hare, you shall have my can-did opinion on the subject. We must not allow the press to take liberties with us; a man of the world should be extremely se-vere with those who dare to turn his private life into ridicule. That we been a great follower of fishing myself, and in the containing the same of the happiest hours of a sufficiently happy tife."—Paley's Natural Theology.

"It has been made extremely valuable to fishermen, but it is worth far more to every block for its charming literature." Christian Inquirer.

"It breathes the very spirit of innocence, purity, and simplicity of heart there are many choice old verses interspersed in it; it would christianize towery discordant angry passion, pray make yourself acquainted with it."—Charles Lamb in a letter to Colerridge.

"Its simplicity, its sweetness, its natural grace and happy intermixture of grave strains with the precepts of angling, have rendered this book deservedly popular."—Hallam's Literature of Europe.

"That well known work has an extreme simplicity, and an extreme interest arising out of its very simplicity. In the description of fishing tackle you perceive the piety and humanity of the author's mind. His is the best pastoral jn the language, not excepting Pope's or Phillips'."—Haalitt, in a paper of the Round Table.

WHO WANTS A LOT OF GROUND
AT A CHEAP PRICE!—The subscriber has divided his farm and laid off a tract of about 40 acres into lots of from one, two, four, and six acres each, which he will sell at low prices and on easy terms, so that it may be within the means of any person to purchase one, and thereby to secure to himself and family a homestead. These lots are handsomely situated in a very healthy location, on a public road, about 1½ miles from the Navy Yard Bridge, on the east side of the Anacostia river.

The soil is well suited for garden purposes or the cultivation of truit trees, and several excellent springs of water are near to them. There is also sufficient wood on each of the lots to enclose them, and timber in abundance can be had in the neighborhood to creet any building at a very low price.

Those wishing to purchase, will do well to apply soon, as they can have a choice of location, &c.
Also, for sale, a one-story log DWELLING HOUSE, with as much land as may be desired, adjoining the above lots, very hendsonely situated, and with a small expense could be converted into a dwelling for two small families.

BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZI

BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE.

THE above Periodicals are reprinted in N. York.

Immediately on their arrival by the British accamers, in a beautiful clear type, on face whise peper, and are faithful copies of the original-Blackwood's Magazine being an extest fac-similis of the Edinburgh edition.

The wide-spread fame of these splendid periodicals renders it needless to say much in their praise. As literary organs, they attand far in advance of any works of a similar stamp new published, white the political complexion of each is smarked by a dignity, candor, and forbearance, not often found in works of a party character.

They embrace the views of the three great parties in England—Whig, Tory, and Radical. Blackwood's and the "London Quarteriy" are Tory, the "Edinburgh Review" Whig, and the "Westminster," Radical. The "North British Review" is of a more Religious cast, and has for its editors Sir David Brewster and Dr. Hanna, sonin-law of the late Dr. Chalmera, of Edinburgh. Its literary articles are of the far order, and it is liberal in its politics.

The prices of the reprints are less than one-third of those of the foreign copies; and, while they are equally well got up, they afford all that advantage to the 'Mercian over the English reader.

TO FOREIGN GENTLEMEN.

TO FOREIGN GENTLEMEN,

A RRIVING in the United States, or others, designous of purchasing a permanent country residence in Pennaylvania. The subscriber offers for sale his farm, situated in Montgomery country, Pennaylvania, 14 miles north of Philadelphia. It contains 308 acres of land, 288 acres of which are in the highest state of cultivation, producing wheat, rys, Indian corn and hay, equal to any upland farm—the remaining 20 acres being whodland. On the premises is a fine stone mansion, 60 feet by 45, with a verandah attached, 15 feet wide, extending the length of the house, and a large plazza on the east, the whole giving ample accommodation for a family of twenty persons. The pleasure grounds surrounding the house are shaded with elegant evergreens, and are very beautifully laid out. There are on the farm three stone houses for farmers or tenants, together with three large stone barns, containing stabling and conveniences for a hundred head of cattle, and for the storage of 250 tons of produce, with coach house, wagon house, granary and corn cribs attached. There are also the advantages of a fine spring house, ice house, fish pond, a garden of two acres, orchards stocked with the finest fruit, green house and grape waii, a stream of spring water in every field, a daily mall, by which the Philadelphia and New York papers of the same day are received, and an omnibus passing the gate morning and evening.
